

7 Bell Yard, London, WC2A 2JR

I am part of a team of City of London guides called Six in the City offering innovative and very popular walks covering many aspects of the Square Mile. Between us we tell great stories that cover history, architecture, pageants and people, as well as subjects that most walks just don't cover.

Two of our most popular walks are Slavery and the City, which looks at the involvement of various City institutions in the story of slavery, and Highlights of the City of London. We have introduced a Legal Walk which takes in the four Inns of Court and the Royal Courts of Justice. We have also just launched Queens and the City of London as part of the Platinum Jubilee celebrations.

We have worked with a number of different institutions, including FIE (Foundation for International Education) Anglo Educational, Verto Education, City University and Queen Mary's University. We have had several enquiries from schools and have worked with King Alfred's Hampstead and St George's Ascot. Our emphasis is very much on quality, and this is reflected in our excellent TripAdvisor reviews.

We have recently had approaches from some Livery Companies who would like to organise private walks for groups, and this is an area where we have built up expertise. We were wondering if you might be interested in offering a Six in the City Walk to your members.

To give you an idea of pricing, the cost for a group of 12/15 would be £220 for a walk lasting around 2 hours. Should you wish to find out more or discuss options, please contact Pat Langford, our business manager, and member of Six in the City at info@sixinthecity.co.uk, and we will answer any questions you may have.

We would be delighted to work with you.

Kind regards
Caroline Powell
