

September in the Square Mile - City Belonging Projects

Sunday 14th September Sandy's Row Synagogue Sandy's Row, the oldest synagogue in the City of London, will be hosting the premiere of the animated film, 'Survivor'. The movie is based on the published testimony of Ivor Perl BEM, who was just 12 years old when taken to Auschwitz with his family. 'Survivor' Movie Premiere	18th & 25th September Culture Mile Walking Tour Explore this unique and hyperlocal area of the City of London and hear more about your new work surroundings. The walking tour will end at The Globe Pub, where you will be welcomed for a drink and to meet other new joiners to the Culture Mile area. Culture Mile Walking Tour	Wednesday 24th September From Buggery to Blasphemy Relive the grandeur that was Gay News with two of the legendary newspaper's key staff members. An unmissable evening of grit, glamour and gossip, flowing with stunning images and candid anecdotes Buggery to Blasphemy
Friday 26th September Songs from the Levant Sura is a London-based Lebanese singer and songwriter who, after training in opera and performing in Beirut bands, turned to Arabic music as a way of reconnecting with her roots. Songs from the Levant	Friday 26th September A season of Arabic Culture Sharing is at the core of Arabic culture, and this season is an invitation to you to do just that. Marsm invites you to gather, to listen and to move with us with a programme filled with film, dance, music and food from across the Arabic-speaking world Season of Arabic Culture	Now through to Friday 31st October Barbican Architecture Tours Did you know the Barbican's theatre and concert hall go deeper underground than the nearest Tube line; early plans for the Centre included a Pyramid; and that the iconic dolphin fountain is a Grade II listed structure—along with the rest of the estate? Barbican Architecture Tours